

Australian Prime Minister and Education Minister Meets with the winners of India Schools Video Competition

Australian Prime Minister, the Hon Malcolm Turnbull, MP and Senator the Hon Simon Birmingham, MP and Minister for Education and Training, Australian Government met with the winners of The Advance to Australia, “A2Oz” - India Schools Video Competition 2016-2017 in New Delhi yesterday.

Students from 325 schools across India participated in the competition and developed short films on next generation fields of study in areas of growing career opportunities in aerospace, construction management, earth sciences, nanotechnology and story-telling through dance.

The students of Sanskriti School, Pranav Bhatt and Ayush Sinha alongwith their guide Mrs Anuja Mittal were declared the winners of the competition organised jointly by the Australian Trade & Investment Commission (Austrade), and Cambridge English Language Assessment in the Aerospace category.

Students along with their teacher will travel to Australia to participate in an all-expenses paid study programme to the University of Sydney between May to July 2017.

