

Origami workshop for Sanskritians by a Sanskritian April 26, 2016

A group of 25 Origami enthusiasts from Classes VI to XI had a delightful morning session with their senior C. Athreya from Class of 2016. A self taught Origami expert Athreya is a dedicated practitioner of this art. He has deep understanding of the science behind Origami and is a patient trainer who conducts training sessions at Japan Foundation.

It was a pleasure to see one of our students taking over the role of a trainer and leading the group from a simple activity to a complex project of Omega star.
