

We take this opportunity to wish every member of the Sanskriti family a happy, healthy and prosperous Diwali. Diwali is a celebration of myriad philosophies and the foremost among them is the victory of good over evil. Good is symbolized by light which illuminates the world and the lives of people. At Sanskriti, also we believe in the auspiciousness of light and its impact on humanity. Traditionally, Diwali has also been synonymous with bursting of crackers which proclaim to the world that the dark forces have been annihilated. However, in the recent past, we have begun to experience the perils of using crackers and their effect on our severely distressed environment. If we continue unabated with our assault on the environment our children and the successive generations will suffer untold misery and anguish.

As an institution which has always been at the forefront of working towards a healthy, pollution free environment, Sanskriti would again like to lead the way in celebrating a complete cracker-free Diwali. We request all members of the Sanskriti family to do the same and illuminate their homes with only electric lamps and lights. Each Sanskritian should stand as an example of responsible humanity during this Diwali and not resort to crackers and burning of candles. We hope to brighten lives with our gesture and usher in the beginning of environment friendly measures. Please do share and spread this message with all friends and relatives.

Once again warm wishes for the festive season.
