

Interactive CTIP Session

Grade 7

On Tuesday, the 2nd of November, members of the Bizzonomy Club conducted interactive sessions for each section of the 7th grade on the topic “Working of Banks”. A pair of members went to each section and conducted the session. The idea behind these sessions was to instil knowledge in the minds of middle school students and nurture a potential interest in the field of Business and Economics.

The session included informative PowerPoint presentations which were prepared for the students and a board game that acted as an icebreaker and a fun refresher for the students. The activity required the students to answer a variety of questions on the topic they had just learnt about and in case they were unable to answer the question, the correct answer was shown to them. For a few numbers, there were informative videos instead of questions. The game acted as an enjoyable recap of all that they had learnt during the session.

The students were interactive and enthusiastic throughout the session. They were attentive and made a constant attempt to answer all questions they were asked. They enjoyed the game and participated enthusiastically. They answered most questions with ease and enjoyed watching the videos. We hope students enjoyed this session, and it helped expand their interest in the field of Business and Economics.

This was an equally enriching experience for all the members, who could learn while preparing the content and conducting the session.
