29th November 2019

Dear Parents,

Books open up a magical world for the children. The more they read, the more they understand the world around them, as they open their minds to new possibilities. At Sanskriti, we constantly endeavour to arouse in our young learners a love for reading by providing them with an easy access to books and through a variety of activities including DEAR among others.

Reading as an activity receives a lot of attention in school. To reinforce our commitment we will be observing “LITERARY DAYS” from Tuesday 3rd to Friday 6th December 2019.

As parents and teachers we can do the following to help young learners develop a passion for reading:

1. Take time out to read regularly to your child. Encourage your child to read aloud to you as well.
2. Allow the child to choose books of his / her liking – once they start to enjoy reading they can be gently guided and motivated to include other books in their reading lists.
3. School has “Book Corners” in class where children go and pick up books whenever they finish their work early. Try and create a cosy book corner at home and let your child experience the magic.
4. D.E.A.R (Drop Everything And Read) activity is a regular feature in our school and is conducted across all classes. This can be done at home too, when all family members read together.

Kindly contribute age appropriate books for the class library. Besides fostering a love for books in the child, exchanging books also inculcates the joy of sharing in them !

Let us work together as a team to help children develop a lifelong affinity to books.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely,

(Richa Sharma Agnihotri)
Principal
